Manager of Iceland Skating Rink in San Francisco Also A Weekend Guest

Paul Shoe, executive president of the Yosemite Park Company, and Mrs. Tressider, wife of Dr. Tressider, vice president of the Yosemite Park Company, were in town last Sunday and made a careful inspection of Truckee's Winter Sports equipment and facilities.

Both Mr. Shoe and Mrs. Tressider were very much impressed with what Truckee had to offer in the way of Winter Sports, and showed special interest in the outdoor ice skating rink.

Mr. Shoe remarked that there was plenty of room for both Truckee and Yosemite in the field of Winter Sports, and that they could not be considered rivals on account of the vast difference and the unique fields which they held as Winter Sports Centers.

The Yosemite officials expressed a desire to co-operate with Truckee in every way, and extended a cordial invitation to Truckee Winter Sports leaders to make a visit to Yosemite.

Local people will be interested to know that Jimmie Fritz—a Truckee boy—is located at Yosemite and has won a host of friends down there.

The manager of ICELAND—skating rink in San Francisco was also a Sunday visitor, and showed much interest in our new outdoor skating rink.

GOVERNOR ROLPH AND FINANCIAL ADVISERS FIND BANK HOLIDAY NECESSARY TO PROTECT SAFETY AND INTERESTS OF PEOPLE

GOVERNOR BALZAR CLOSES UP SCHOOLS, PUBLIC OFFICES AND UNIVERSITY FOR FOUR DAY HOLIDAY EFFECTIVE TODAY

Governor James Rolph Jr. of California declared a moratorium of three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—on all banks of the state, at midnight last night. The governor stated the bank holiday was necessary to protect the safety and interests of the people.

For the past week, due to whispered activities, the depositors in the banks of the southern part of the state have been steadily withdrawing their money. Yesterday the run became so serious that Governor Rolph called a special meeting in San Francisco of the State Controller, Ray L. Riley, State Treasurer, Charles G. Johnson, State Director of Finance Rolland A. Vandegriff and a number of prominent financiers, to go over the situation. It was decided that a bank holiday was necessary.

While the Bank of America was Governor Balzar of Nevada issued a proclamation at 11:30 P. M. last night declaring a four day holiday in the State of Nevada, and closing the University, all schools, all state and county offices to protect the banks and depositors, due to financial condition of Nevada and neighboring states, and to allow the Nevada State Legislature to meet the emergency.

reluctant to participate in this three day holiday, they did so only in consideration of the existing emergency and the urgent representation of constituted authority. The Bank of America is absolutely solvent, and local townspeople are urged to remain calm and refrain from becoming excited. There is no need of anxiety at this time. Local depositors have the assurance that these funds are amply protected.

NEW SNOW MOTOR SLED DEMONSTRATED

E. M. Tucker, of 1315 30th Street, Sacramento, was in town last Saturday and Sunday with his latest invention, a new model Tucker Motor Sled.

The motor sled was invented and built to overcome the snow transportation problems of the High Sierra. Its inventor stated to a representative of the Truckee Republican, that the sled would climb over any deer trail, thru any kind of snow drifts on any mountain ridge.

The motor sled is operated by a special screw, 15 inches in diameter and 5 feet long, mounted on runners which carry the machine.

It was said that the sled will pull 50 people over the snow.

A demonstration was made last Sunday for James McIvers Jr. and Tom Dolley between Truckee and Hobart Mills.

The inventor stated that the sleds could be manufactured to sell for about one quarter of the price of an automobile.

It is felt the new motor sled will solve the problem of getting over the heavy snow drifts in this region.

OSCAR SCHUMACHER TAKES THIRTY-TWO MILE SKI TRIP

The Stockton Record in their February 18th issue carries an interesting story of a thirty-two mile ski trip made by Oscar Schumacher, of Truckee, former game warden, from Truckee to Independence Lake, who made the long trip a short time ago with Floyd Thomas and Eric Hebbe of Stockton.

The party made the long hard trip to the lake to take provisions to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thomas, caretakers. The latter couple had not been out since Christmas. The party found the cabin at the lake buried in seven feet of snow, but intact.

Mr. Schumacher spends his winters in Truckee, and is interested in mining over in Sierra and Plumas counties during the summer months.

Addison Nelson and Eugene Barton spent the weekend at the home of their parents.

Jack Titus of San Francisco is visiting at the home of his parents for a weeks vacation.

CHAMBER ASKS FOR LIGHTS

Directors Hold Open Meeting and Local Townspeople Ask Question Pertaining To Operation

At the weekly meeting of the board of directors of the Truckee Public Utility District held on Tuesday evening, a letter was read from the Truckee Chamber of Commerce asking the directors if some way could not be worked out so that the streets of Truckee might again be properly lighted.

As a result of the petition, the directors voted to light the streets which have been dark since November 1st when Supervisor Alex Robertson notified the Utility that he would no longer approve payment of the monthly allowance of $30.

The meeting of the directors on Tuesday night was open to everyone, and quite a number of local townspeople were present, and several took advantage of the opportunity to ask questions pertaining to the financial statement for the year 1932 which was recently released, and also questions pertaining to various phases of the operation of the Utility.

The manager and director of the Utility not only impressed all the local citizens present at the meeting that they were only too glad to advise them of any details regarding the Utility, but that they were always pleased to hear any constructive suggestions. The directors also emphasized the fact that the weekly meetings were open to anyone who might care to attend.

The fact was also brought out at the meeting that the Utility are not obligated in any way to light the streets of Truckee without pay, but that in view of the fact that the Utility was organized for the sole purpose of serving the community, they were only too glad to render this special service to the local people without imposing a tax.

It was felt that this open meeting cleared away considerable misunderstanding which may have been in the minds of certain of our local townspeople.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY

With this issue The Truckee Republican starts on its sixty-fifth year.

We feel that this is an appropriate time to express our sincere appreciation to all who have helped to make our success during the past year.

Our steady growth clearly indicates that we have many, many friends scattered all over. And after all, what is there more wonderful than having friends?

It is our constant aim to make The Truckee Republican a worthwhile newspaper: one that the community may be proud of. And we in turn are very proud of our friends and boosters who have given us the necessary inspiration to carry on and do our very best.

KINGS AND KNAVES AND DEPRESSIONS

"Circulation of money is the soul of commerce and the backbone of state."

Such was the advice one of the greatest knaves in history, Jacques Casanova De Seingalt, gave to one of the greatest kings—Frederick The Great, back in 1759, in an interview in the king's garden.

Jacques Cassanova De Seingalt was born in Venice in 1725; his father was an actor, his mother a shoemaker's daughter. He was educated for the priesthood, but was expelled in disgrace from the seminary. He then entered the Venetian military service, and began a career of intrigue and adventure. He wandered to almost every part of Europe, living by his wits; sometimes as a journalist, sometimes as a doctor, sometimes as a mesmerist, and often as a diplomat. With his remarkable personality, he effected an entrance to many high social circles and was presented to Catharine of Russia, Louis XV, Frederick the Great, Rousseau, Voltaire, and Madame Pompadour. In 1775 he was arrested in Venice as a spy and was imprisoned, but later escaped. Afterwards he was honored by Italian princes and was decorated by the Pope.

And yet for all this knave's trickery, rascality and audacity—he apparently had a mind as keen as a rapier. A mind that penetrated thru the fog and haze of tempestuous government, and discerned the requisites necessary for the successful maintenance of a monarchy.

Oh, that we had a Jacques Casanova De Seingalt in the United States today, to whisper in the ear of those in authority in Washington the same advice that was given to Frederick The Great that afternoon in the garden those many, many years ago:

"Circulation of money is the soul of Commerce and the backbone of state."

For after all this is said and done, isn't that the main difficulty in United States today? And why is it that our capitalists are not big enough to see it?

It is only by a wide distribution of money that the wheels of the government can revolve and go on. It is only by a wide circulation of money that independence and security of the people can be obtained.

BRAIN AND JAWS

Dr. E. A. Hooton, professor of anthropology at Harvard, says human evolution has become largely a matter of brain expansion and jaw reduction. "It has reached a stage where we now have bigger and possibly better brains than we can use, and smaller and worse jaws than the health of the individual and the preservation of the species demand."

We do not use our jaws enough. That is, to eat with. Soft food gives us bad and weak chins and jaw formation that does not provide room for what teeth we have. Dental degeneration is a menace to modern civilized man. The dentist, he says, is the only scientist fighting this anti-revolutionary tendency.

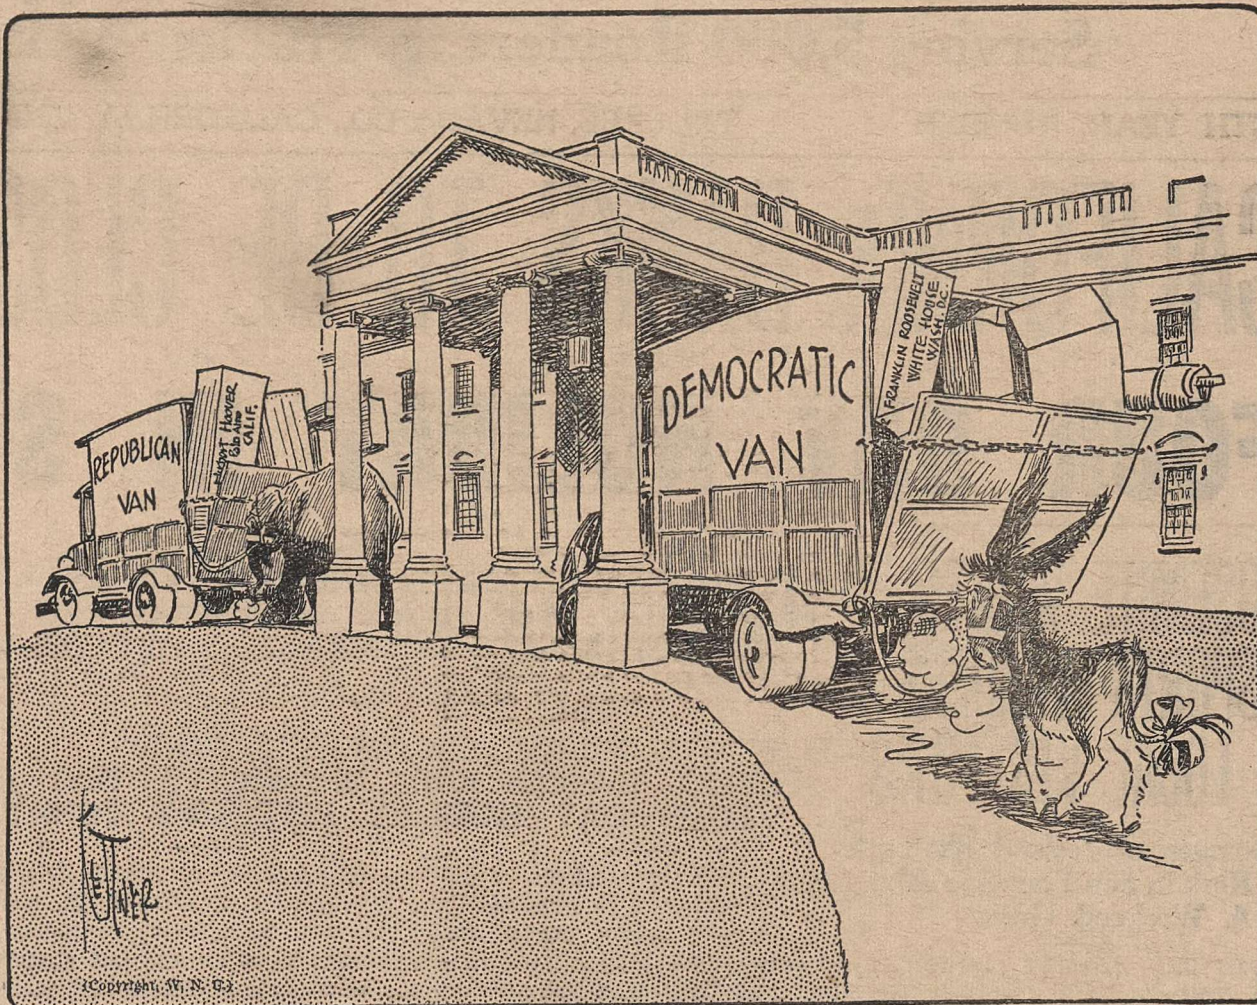

The race seems to run to extremes. Primitive man was all jaws and no brains. Modern man is all brains and no jaws, and he uses his brains on jigsaw puzzles and his jaws on spoon vittles. Maybe we need a change.

SCIENTIFIC NORMALCY

Some things are quite normal. The American Association for the advancement of Science has made its annual announcement that the Atlantic Coast is sagging in the middle and rising at both ends. A million years from now, at the present rate of sag, New York City will be a mile under water.

A few years ago the announcement seemed a little alarming. Nowadays we are more philosophic about what may take place in the next million years. As it is, we realize that there is still plenty of time to tear down the metropolis innumerable times before the famous skyline slips beneath the sea.

THE OLD TOWN HALL

Listening to the plutocrats instead of to the people is almost certain to get the leaders of a democracy as well as the government itself into trouble. Any form of oligarchy—the governing of the many by the few—hits a snag eventually in a government that is ostensibly of the people, by the people, and for the people.

In a true democracy, the representatives of the people must actually represent the people. They do not listen merely to certain groups; they do not listen merely to the upper class, the middle class or the lower class. They do not take their cue from the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants Association, the social Four Hundred, the Labor Union, or from any other individual group. They listen, if they do their duty, to what the people in all walks of life have to say; then they govern themselves accordingly.

The old town hall idea should be revived in the United States and put to work. The people should get together at regular intervals and decide what they want done, while their representatives sit, listen and get their ears full.

If democracy is worth anything at all, it must be made to work. If democracy is not workable, then it should be replaced by some form of government that is workable. The trouble with democracy in the United States is the same as with prohibition and with Christianity. It has never actually been tried.

This nation is committed to the idea of popular government. It is founded on the principle of popular government. The only way to have popular government is by means of the popular will.

Autocracy, arrogance, class consciousness, clique legislation, have no place in popular government. The rights of the poorest as well as the rights of the richest must command equal consideration in the democracy. The requests, pleas and protests of the humblest citizens should carry as much weight with the governing bodies as the arguments and the demands of the most outstanding citizens.

The common people are wise. They have an uncanny way of getting at the truth. Perhaps that is because, having no axes to grind, they are more likely to think without prejudice. That great statesman and defender of the common people, Jefferson, declared his confidence in the soundness of the opinion of the masses, once they had thought a thing through and over, and had come to a decision. The extreme fallibility of the judgment of the princes has been manifested over and over again in every era; the present era is no exception.

Back to the town hall we should go; back to the town hall, where the people gather and talk over their problems, where they go to tell their duly elected representatives just how they feel about affairs of government.

Municipal government is the United States' most notorious failure; the universal popular use of the town hall would serve noticeably to correct that deficiency.

FRATERNAL ORDER

(Editorial from Grass Valley Union)

The widely known fraternal order of Knights of Pythias has entered the seventieth year of its existence, it having observed its sixty-ninth birth anniversary on February 19th.

The story of the order's beginning has a charm that grips the imaginations of men. Thirteen men, after reading a ritual prepared by Justus H. Rathbone, founder, met in Old Temperance Hall in the City of Washington, took the obligation and founded the first lodge on February 19, 1864. It immediately assumed leadership in the extension of fraternity as a positive asset in the life of man. During the period of nearly three score years and ten the lesson taught by the order has been painted in the hearts of millions of men and the teaching of brotherhood accepted as a code of human relationships.

Fraternal orders, with few exceptions, have suffered loss in memberships during the last few years, but the current issue of the Knights of Pythias News asserts that the

Folks Worth Knowing

C. E. SMITH

This week we present C. E. Smith to our readers as one of the leading community builders.

Mr. Smith was born in Kansas City, Mo. and came to Truckee with his folks when he was but five years of age. After receiving his education in the Truckee schools, he eventually entered the grocery business and continued in that line for seventeen years.

For the past six years he has conducted a coal-wood and transfer business.

Mr. Smith has been president of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce for the past eight years, and has been very active in community affairs. For fourteen years he was a High School trustee.

In 1902 he re-organized the McGlashan Water Company and was made president, and still holds that position.

In 1927 he was one of the organizers of the Truckee Public Utility District, and has been president of the Board of Directors ever since.

In fraternal affairs, Mr. Smith has been a member of the Truckee Lodge of Odd Fellows for the past 38 years, and he is a Past Noble Grand, having been thru all the chairs. He has also been a member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles for the past 23 years.

Mr. Smith has the high esteem of all the people of the community, and is well known all over Nevada County.

He has played an important part in the development of Truckee.

LOS ANGELES—(CPS) — Charles Fautley, "going on 106," attributes his long life to drinking coffee, tea, milk, and a secret elixir made of herbs in an alcoholic solution.

VALLEJO — (CPS) — Airplanes equipped with spraying apparatus were used to kill mosquitoes in the marshy regions surrounding Mare Island navy yard here.

"K P" is weathering the crisis in good shape the country over and that a decided upturn of membership is now manifest.

This Is --- Confidential

Confidentially, do you know of a more beautiful sight than Mt. Rose at sunset? I've talked with quite a few about this and all agree that they never tire of looking at Mt. Rose when the reflection from the setting sun lights up that glorious old mountain in a thousand shades of yellow, rose and purple. It's a sight worth traveling many miles to see, and I often think of the privilege it is to live here and drink in the beauty of these mountains every day.

Confidentially, I know a black dog in town who barks at me every time he meets me, and at the same time wags his tail in welcome, and expects me to pat him on the head. Strikes me a lot like a man I know in town who is forever knocking Truckee and every one in it, but—who you could not drive out of town with the most flattering offer. Life's just like that, isn't it? Full of contradictions from beginning to end.

Confidentially, not that we are in a confidential mood, I want to say that it's not the easiest thing in the world to get out a newspaper which will please all the readers.

Of course if an editor wanted to publish all he knows—or what he hears—he could put out a paper which would find a ready sale and lots of readers.

For instance, a fellow comes in whispers confidentially—"Did you hear about the party up at So-and-So's house last night. Gee! It was a wow! Things sure did happen and So-and-So landed out in the street etc, etc."

Or—"Did you know that So-and-So's wife is going to leave him? Seems the Old Boy has been running around with So-and-So etc, etc."

Or—"I was down to the city the other night and met So-and-So strolling into the theatre with a beautiful little Fairy. Gee that Old Boy steps out when he leaves town. His mama will get him yet, etc, etc."

Or—"I hear So-and-So is playing quite a game with the bootleggers and him posing as such a goody-goody boy."

Confidentially, I am often asked why I shield this one and that one and fail to publish all this undercurrent stuff. It's the same old story wherever you go. East, South, West or North, people like to hear about other people's misbehavior and affairs, but—woe to an editor who publishes anything about these very self same people's personal cut-ups or capers.

But why play up human weakness? I don't believe in shielding graft, crime or special privilege but I do believe that there is little gain in publishing petty gossip and suggestive piffle.

Confidentially, how do you like this column?

Do you like this personal feature, or—do you prefer newspapers without the personal touch of columns and editorials?

Confidentially, we're striving to put out the best weekly paper on the Pacific Coast. We take just as much pains with it as though it were a metropolitan daily serving a million people and making a million dollars a year. We want our readers to be pleased with our efforts. And if there is any special features which we do not cover, we would greatly appreciate being told about it.

Confidentially, we have faith in the development and future of Truckee and the region. We have faith and confidence in the people who live here. If we did not we would move to some place where we did have faith and confidence.

Confidentially, whether this column remains in the paper depends on whether you like it or not. Maybe it will be in here next week and maybe it won't.

Lunch was served at Pacific House by the Placerville Ski Club to contestants.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heller of Meeks Bay were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry of Tahoe on Saturday.

The many friends of Marie Henry of Tahoe will regret to hear of her untimely accident last Sunday while skiing, when due to a bad fall caused by hidden brush Mrs. Henry was catapulted over an embankment landing in such a position that all the major muscles of the right leg were torn loose.

Considerable relief was given her by the efficient care of Mrs. W. A. Simmonds who is an expert masseuse. This injury will prevent Mrs. Henry entering the Tahoe Tournament. Speedy recovery is wished to Lake Tahoe Ski Club's staunch supporter.

Sunday, March 5th, the Lake Tahoe Ski Club will hold its annual ski tournament and Ski Frolic at Olympic Hill in Ski Canyon. Events for the day will start promptly at 10 A. M. and will include many races and jumps.

Kenneth Willis, former resident of Tahoe, now residing in Auburn, and a member of the 363rd Division during the World War, has been awarded the "purple heart" by the War Department, for distinguished services and bravery while in action overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess, genial owners of the Brockway Pines, were hosts to 25 friends at their resort on Friday night.

Dancing and singing to the snappy piano accompaniment of Jack Bennett, formerly of Tia Juana, formed the evening's entertainment. A humorous touch was added to the party by Ed Wagner and Harry Riley, who dressed like and impersonated female vamps, causing gales of merriment all evening. A sumptuous supper was served at midnight by the hostess Mrs. Jack Burgess, whose charm and wit made her the life of the party.

Among those who enjoyed the Burgess' hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Badell of Brockway, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Burg of Lake Forest, Harry Riley, Thomas Fradsham of the Half Way Store at Brockway, Roy Andrews, Jack Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burgess, the hosts.

The work of repairing and remodeling The Bale of Hay has been started this week by the owners and it is expected to be in readiness for the season's opening within three weeks time. Jack Bennett, who wields a wicked musical wrist, has been engaged to furnish the music.

Charlie Burkhardt of Santa Barbara, son-in-law of Mrs. Ed Wagner, will arrive soon to accept a position at Brockway for the summer.

The Wagners, who are now busy making repairs and improvements at their Lake Forest Auto Camp, will start the erection of their new six room home as soon as the snow diminishes sufficiently, the necessary lumber having been brought in last fall.

On Friday Constable Carl Beckdolt motored to the Auburn County Hospital with "Poker Pete," old time resident of Tahoe. His health has been failing rapidly of late so the County Hospital was deemed the best place for him.

Sam Platt of Reno, who owns a summer home near Lincoln Pt. here, was a recent visitor in Long Beach.

Harry Leitch of Reno and San Francisco, who owns property near Brockway, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones of Antioch on Thursday.

Katherine Bottimore of Herald, who was critically injured in an auto accident last year is now able to walk again, according to Mrs. W. E. Jones, who visited her at Herald on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Skinner of Lodi spent Saturday and Sunday at their summer home at Homewood.

Mrs. Harry Williams of Lincoln spent the week end with her daughter Mrs. J. P. Obexer and family of Homewood.

Frank Johnston, brother of Bill Johnston, owner of El Campo Resort of Homewood, who is caretaker this winter of the resort properties, had both of his heels badly frozen recently. Altho very painful the injury will not be permanent.

A cabin on the grounds was carried some 50 feet recently when struck by a huge snow slide, completely enveloping it.

Town folks were delighted last week to welcome back Herbert Nichter and his wife from San Francisco. Mr. Nichter had the misfortune of breaking his leg last fall and has spent the intervening time recuperating in Letterman General Hospital. Altho not completely recovered, he is able to get around again after his long seige.

Richard Shainwald owner of a summer home in Sunnyside Tract, motored up from San Francisco with four friends to spend Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson of Sunnyside entertained a few friends at dinner on Washington's Birthday in honor of a friend and neighbor, Ray Matchem whose birthday falls on the same day. Present were Charlie Winslow, Bill Topp, Ray Matchem and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Swanson and son. Pinochle occupied the remainder of the evening.

When Constable Carl Beckdolt kills a hog, it is cause for rejoicing all over town. He butchered several last week, and made a fine delicious lot of sausage meat, which he distributed, with accustomed generosity, to all of his neighbors and townsfolk. There's not much chance for old man Depression with folks like that around.

Martin Spitsen and Jack Anderson were home from Sacramento Junior College over the week end to see friends and families. They returned with Professor Henry Hinkle on Sunday.

Marie Henry, who went with the crowd on Sunday to help prepare the ski hills for the coming meet on March 5th, evidently decided to try a little jumping herself, which unfortunately proved disastrous. In some unexplained manner she fell and is now laid up with a painfully injured leg and badly strained ligaments. As this goes to press plans are being made to take her to Reno for an X-ray, as she is unable to stand or walk, and it is thought possible there are fractured bones somewhere. We greatly regret the accident as it may remove one of our foremost prize-winning contestants in the coming Meet, and we know Marie will be greatly disappointed.

NORDEN NEWS

By C. W. KRAMER

Word has been received at Norden of the sudden death and untimely passing of Michael Casey at Stockton last Friday. Up to sixty days ago Mr. Casey was actively engaged in snowshed construction at Tunnel Six, employed by the Southern Pacific Company as carpenter, at which he has served for the past twenty years. Casey was born in Ireland and when a young man came to the United States to reside in San Francisco, where he was employed by a leading Mercantile firm for several years. He then moved to Winnemucca, Nevada, where he followed the butchering trade, later coming to Reno, where he was employed by the Nevada Packing Company. From there he went to Truckee, where he worked in the lumber camp for the Floriston Paper Co., later known as the Crown-Willamette Co. in and about Truckee. Casey is well remembered in these parts as having taken an active part in sports and trout fishing, which proved to be his hobby; also of the restocking of lakes and streams. Relatives reside in San Francisco, where he will probably be interred. Casey was prominent in Fraternal and religious circles in Truckee.

Jim Leung, the culinary artist of B&B 108, made a hurried trip to Sacramento on business last week.

F. L. Briggs, chief accountant of Extra Gang No. 2, Tunnel Six, spent the week end with his family at Sacramento.

Clarence Hart of Norden was missed away from his usual duties for several hours recently while he visited at Folsom.

Kenneth Lyon, a junior high student of Sacramento, accompanied his father J. C. Lyon to Norden last week end by motoring up.

On Friday night there was a meeting of the Tahoe Ski Club, presided over by President Weller Atherton and was well attended. Plans were discussed and perfected for the forthcoming Sanctioned Ski Meet on March 5th, which, from present indications, promises to be a real success. Outside Clubs have all been invited to attend, including Truckee, Auburn, Sacramento, Reno, Placerville and Lake Arrowhead. The price of admission will be 50 cents and this will include a hot lunch. Mrs. Bob Watson served delicious hot coffee and doughnuts at the conclusion of the meeting.

Reservations are already being received at Tahoe Inn and a good crowd is anticipated. The big ski hill, as well as the smaller one, are in perfect condition, and if this fine weather continues some record breaking jumps should be accomplished. Come one! Come all!

Mrs. George Bliss of Tahoe entertained four tables of bridge on Thursday. It was a typical "hard time" party, the ladies vying with each other strenuously in their efforts to appear poverty-stricken. A delicious luncheon was served

Joseph Northey, B&B 108 Tunnel Six, was a recent visitor to Oakland and also to San Francisco to be in attendance at the ground breaking ceremonies held at Crissy Field of the Golden Gate bridge.

RILEY-STEWART PLAN WOULD REDUCE TAX RATES ONE - HALF

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 2—(CPS)—The ordinary real estate owner of Nevada county would have his annual tax rate reduced from $3.60 to $1.80 per $100 if the so-called Riley-Stewart tax plan is adopted by the state legislature.

This is because the proposal will definitely relieve the tax upon real estate for county and state requirements by 50 per cent, according to its authors.

Unless this or some similar tax reform measure is adopted, a complete collapse of California's state government will be the inevitable result, it is pointed out by State Controller Ray L. Riley.

"No new tax dollars are produced by this plan for exploitation or increased governmental expenditures said Riley. "Instead, it contemplates the payment of an existing bill in a new fashion and diminishes the amount of the bill.

"This will avert a repetition of governmental breakdown now occurring in the middle west and eastern states. Californians should be intelligent enough to realize that here we have all the elements in exaggerated form that are responsible for governmental chaos in other states."

Riley has just returned from a tour in the interest of the bill, and reports a mounting sentiment in its favor. Features in which greatest public interest is being shown, he reported, are:

The measure will reduce the cost of government, both county and state.

It will reduce the present oppressive tax burden on real estate.

It repeals the present "double-headed" tax system and puts all taxpayers on the same side of the fence with identical interests.

It subjects all types of property to identical burdens.

It provides a new method of school financing by removing the county's matching requirements, and putting school costs under budgetary control. It will tend to compel consolidation of school districts upon a basis of larger units.

It provides a wide revenue base

AGUA CALIENTE GAMBLERS ABANDON 'GOLD STANDARD'

$1,000,000 Monthly Profits
Take Huge Drop

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico—(UP)—The room where motion picture celebrities and favorites of the stock market fingered stacks of gold, while roulette wheels whirled and cards flicked at the caprice of fortune is dark today in the West's most palatial gambling resort.

Agua Caliente has gone off the gold standard. Seldom open now is the "gold room," where five, ten and twenty dollar gold pieces were the chips, the smallest bet $10, and evening clothes were required for admittance. When the "gold room" is used, the minimum bet has been reduced to one dollar.

In the main gambling casino, where one often could not approach the tables closely enough to place a bet, now dealers on occasions stand idle, waiting for customers. Agua Caliente is still doing business at the old stand—its gross runs between $100,000 and $500,000 a month—but in no way to compare with the boom days. Before the depression the net profit on gambling at Caliente was said to be $1,000,000 a month.

There is still heavy play on occasion. The motion picture colony still patronizes and spends. Convention delegates make a one-day stop, and there are still a few patrons with money.

In the casino, the clubhouse (connected with the race track) and at the dog track the gambler has his choice of roulette, blackjack, chuck-a-luck and "craps." Except at roulette, he may not bet less than one dollar. Half dollars may be played on the "wheel."

"Seven straight," a new gambling idea for race track followers, was inaugurated this year. One may buy a ticket for two dollars, naming the horses he expects to win in each of the seven races. The player is guaranteed $5,000 if he hits on on seven, and may win as much as $25,000. But the mathematical chances are in the hundreds of thousands against him.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

(Behind the Scenes in California Politics)

Special to the Truckee Republican
By HOMER L. ROBERTS
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 2—

(CPS)—The inside story of how the recall movement against governor Rolph was stopped would fill a large volume.

It was accomplished by the simple expedient of starting a backfire in the California state grange, whose master, George Sehlmeier, was spokesman for the recall. The grangers did the rest.

The two Rolph lieutenants who pulled the strings were Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works, and Eric Cullenward, deputy director. Strangely enough, they were the two who succeeded Colonel Walter E. Garrison and James I. Herz.

Don't be fooled by the grange's announcement that the recall was "postponed" until the senate investigation committee finishes its report. The recall is as dead as a doornail. The "postponement" yarn was to give Sehlmeier a hole to crawl into.

How do you think Former Governor C. C. Young would do as a candidate against Governor Rolph next year?

Well, it's being seriously considered by Progressive Republicans who are seeking an opponent to groom for the race. Young is reported as willing, but his family isn't.

Bert B. Meek, director of public works in Young's administration, is also being boomed by the Progressives. His running-mate would probably be John R. Quinn, Los Angeles supervisor and former national commander of the legion.

Strangely enough, two of the persons most influential in blocking the Rolph recall were Young and Meek.

Senator J. M. Inman of Sacramento, chairman of the senate committee investigating Governor Rolph's administration, and Sheridan Downey, attorney for the committee, want to know who's hiring all the Pinkerton detectives who are "camping on their trails."

Downey says the Sherlocks have even gone back to his old home at Laramie, Wyo., in an attempt to dig up something in his "past." Inman says the detectives are having hard pickings. They about exhausted themselves on his last campaign for reelection.

Freak Bills Introduced At State Legislature

By JACK RICHARDS
(California Press Service Writer)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 2—(CSP)—Bullfrogs, dogs and fortune tellers are just a few of the varied subjects covered by "freak bills" to be faced by the California state legislature when it reconvenes here February 28.

A study of the 3,000-odd measures left by the lawmakers when they departed in a hurry for their 30 day constitutional recess, disclosed a large number in the so-called "freak" category.

There's a measure, for example, that would prohibit you from taking your pet poodle to your hotel room and letting him sleep there.

It is a fit companion for the perennial bill prohibiting dogs from riding on the running boards of automobiles. This was absent from the legislative files this year for the first time in three sessions.

Bullfrog hunters would be subjected to a "bag limit" of 24 frogs a day or 48 a week under another bill. This would also make it illegal to catch a frog under 4 inches in length.

MARYSVILLE—(CPS)—The first Hindu woman ever known to have entered California was captured on a Sutter county ranch by United States immigration authorities. She will be deported.

Motion picture operators would be forbidden to talk while at work under terms of another proposed law. After reading it, one senator remarked that a similar act might apply to barbers.

Eavesdropping by police by using dictaphones would be permitted under one measure, but if anyone else uses the same tactics it becomes a felony.

Spinsters and others ashamed to state their legal age when applying for a marriage license would be relieved by a bill permitting them merely to say they are "of legal age."

Other bills labeled as freaks, many of which have very serious purposes, are:

Regulating fortune tellers, fakirs, etc.; prohibiting use of straitjackets, thumb screws and shower baths as means of punishment in prisons; permitting store owners employing no more than three persons to sleep on the premises; forbidding crushing of "stink bombs" in a theatre; prohibiting the wearing of a fireman's badge if you're not a fireman, and requiring labels on the shells of cold storage eggs.

RIO LINDA—(CPS)—A hickory dollar, made 35 years ago, was put into circulation here. It bought a dozen eggs, a sack of coal, a dressed chicken and groceries on its rounds of the community.

STATE LEGISLATURE REVIEWS

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 2—(CPS)—Every California county would have its own liquor commissioner to enforce state regulation in case light wines and beer are legalized by congress, under a bill now before the state legislature.

The county liquor officer would be appointed by the board of supervisors, and his main duty would be to collect the annual license fee, to be written into the bill later.

Looking ahead to the possibility the Eighteenth amendment may be repealed, a companion measure sets up a state license tax commission to license manufacturers and distributors of alcoholic beverages. The commission would be appointed by the governor, and would have three members serving 6 year terms.

License taxes provided under the measure are:

Restaurants and hotels, serving beer with meals, $50 a year; wine with meals, $50; grocery stores and drug stores, selling beer in packages to be consumed elsewhere, $25; wine, $25; liquor stores, selling alcohol of higher content in original packages to be consumed elsewhere, $210; industrial alcohol permit, $20; medicinal alcohol permit, $50; wholesale liquor dealers, selling to trade only (except beer or wine), $100; wholesale beer and wine dealers, selling to trade only, $50; manufacturing winery permit, $10; manufacturing brewery permit, $10.

Another bill proposes outright repeal of the Jones still act, making possession or operation of a still a felony.

Alarmed at the annual decrease in marriages in California one lawmaker proposes to repeal California's "gin marriage" act, which requires 3 days' notice of intention to wed.

Other measures before the legislature include:

Prohibiting intermarriage of Filipinos and white persons in California. Requiring plaintiff in "heart balm" suits to file a bond equal to 10 per cent of the damages sought. This is provided in order to guarantee payment of costs in case the suit is dismissed or judgment awarded the defendant.

Abolishing interlocutory decrees of divorce, requiring a one year wait before the decree becomes final.

Reducing the time between granting the divorce and the final judgment from one year to three months.

Providing that alimony payments immediately stop upon the remarriage of the wife.

Giving babies born of a marriage that is annulled or dissolved by divorce, full legal standing as legitimate children.

Limiting state aid to county juvenile research clinics to $10,000 a year.

Reducing from 2 years to 6 months the maximum penalty for failure to provide for a minor child.

SIMPLE HEALTH RULES ADD YEARS TO LIFE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 2—(CPS)—Want to live to be 100? Then hark to suggestions of the state board of health:

Breathe fresh air, day and night. Exercise your muscles daily. Regard over-fatigue as your enemy, and rest as your friend. Sleep at least 8 hours a day. Drink plenty of water at and between meals.

"Eat temperately, with plenty of vegetables and fruit. Avoid overweight. Make a thorough recovery from colds and sore throat. Think wholesome thoughts. Have a health examination every year. Ask your physician's advice and follow it."

NEW BRAND OF PEACH ALMOST PERFECTED

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Mar. 2—(CPS)—Much promise is held out for the Babcock peach, a new freestone developed by Professor E. B. Babcock of the University of California. It was specially bred for adaptability to climatic conditions of Southern California.

In 5 out of the last 9 years, the peach crop of this section has been injured by what was called "delayed foliation." This is now known as "prolonged dormancy" by farm experts, and it results in preventing the formation of fruit.

The new peach, now being propagated by nurserymen, is expected to overcome this trouble.

SANTA BARBARA—(CPS)—Clasping a half-used bottle of "canned heat" in his hand, a drunken itinerant went to sleep on the cow catcher of a Southern Pacific train and held it up 10 minutes.

ALTURAS—(CPS)—A 9-pound son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Drans Mohr here last week, came into the world with two teeth.

Famous Arena Is Back- ground For New Film

"Madison Square Garden," a rapid-moving drama set against the kaleidoscopic background of New York's famed center of political, social and athletic life, has been booked for the Donner Theatre where it will be shown on next Sunday night. Jack Oakie, Thomas Meighan, Marian Nixon, Warren Hymer, William Collier, Sr., William Boyd and Zasu Pitts head the cast.

Like "Grand Hotel," Union Depot," and other films set against a single background, "Madison Square Garden" concerns itself with the lives of the various people who meet under its roof, and the results that follow their meeting.

The vivid panoramic view of the Garden's ever-changing activities is held together by the story of a manager who brings two proteges to New York and "The Garden," their meeting with two girl telegraph operators, and their adaptation of themselves to the new life. Collier plays the role of the manager; Hymer and Oakie are his proteges; Miss Nixon and Miss Pitts are the girls.

"never too old" to marry, said William H. Tucker, 87 year old civil war veteran, who bought a marriage license to wed Mrs. Electa J. Brown, 65.

CAT WITH HEADLIGHT INVESTIGATED BY COP

MODESTO, Cal., Mar. 2—(CSP)—"Send an officer at once. Some kind of wild animal with a headlight is loose on the highway."

This frightened telephone call sent Traffic Officer Emmett Elmore to the scene in a hurry. He found the animal, crouched on the highway, with something on its head that flashed and gleamed.

Dismounting, Elmore found a badly scared alley cat that had gone shrimp hunting in a tin can. The can stuck on its head and reflected the headlights of the automobiles. The officer pried off the can, the cat spit at him and streaked into the darkness.

Many a man who was once a cut-up now sits quietly at home working jig-saw puzzles.
